

WCCC Honors Beacon as Employer of the Month

Warren County Career Center honored Beacon Electric as the April 2008 Employer of the Month. Tim Ely, Vice President of Construction at Beacon, serves on the WCCC District Business Advisory Council and also on the Business Advisory Committee for the Electricity program. He has employed over 60 WCCC students in the last 10 years at Beacon, and also offers job shadow days at the company. Ely has helped Electricity instructors over the years by coming into the classroom to speak to students and assisting with safety training of the students. He also helps out as a judge with the SkillsUSA competitions in the electrical areas.

“Tim’s involvement goes way beyond the call of duty,” Rick Centers, Electricity instructor, said. “He serves not only as an employer of our students but also as an advisor. He is there to support us in everything we do.”

“In my opinion, Warren County has the best program going in the area,” Ely said. “The students from the Career Center who come to work for me excel better than any others.”

Pictured from left, Gary Patton, WCCC Director of Secondary Education; Tim Ely, Beacon Electric; former WCCC Electricity students and current Beacon employees John Ely and Kevin Miller, current WCCC Electricity student and Beacon employee Ryan Kildow, and WCCC Electricity Instructor Rick Centers.